

Enemies

Terror Jr

Staring at these screens
Tearing down and falsely building up my self-esteem
You're a shitty person if you don't love everything
There's a shitty person that we've all been worshipping
And how can we not change?
What's the point of all of this if we remain the same?
And I won't follow any special player in the game
But sleeping with your rival is a rush you'll never beat

I shouldn't want you
You're so different from me
But maybe we can teach each other, baby
Wouldn't that be sweet?
And all my friends say you're just a symbol on a screen
But I can read between the lines
I know you're more than what you seem

Sick of you telling me what I gotta be
And your goddamn fantasy
Used to hate me when you were sleeping on me
'Til the night you were sleeping on me
Sweet dreams, sweet dreams, being with my enemies
Used to hate me when you were sleeping on me
'Til the night you were sleeping on me

So what do you believe?
Cannot have my body over any prophecy
I don't really follow, got my own philosophies
So why you watching me instead of helping me?
You say you're feeling me, then why you killing me?
All the cheap shots, no, that ain't a deal to me
Fuck your happy meal, no, that ain't a meal to me
All the praying you've been doing ain't healing me, no

I shouldn't want you
You're so different from me
But maybe we can teach each other, baby
Wouldn't that be sweet?
And all my friends say you're just a symbol on a screen
But I can read between the lines
I know you're more than what you seem

Sick of you telling me what I gotta be
And your goddamn fantasy
Used to hate me when you were sleeping on me
'Til the night you were sleeping on me
Sweet dreams, sweet dreams, being with my enemies
Used to hate me when you were sleeping on me
'Til the night you were sleeping on me
Sick of you telling me what I gotta be
And your goddamn fantasy
Used to hate me when you were sleeping on me
'Til the night you were sleeping on me
Sweet dreams, sweet dreams, being with my enemies
Used to hate me when you were sleeping on me
'Til the night you were sleeping on me

Sleeping on me 'til the night you were sleeping on
Sleeping on me 'til the night you were sleeping on
