

The Hardest Truth

Terror

The hardest truth
It's fucking killing you

Destruction of my will but still I fucking stay
To fight my way through every regret everyday
Eyes of disaster and decay
You want a life on your own, have it your way

You keep control
I'll take the pain

The hardest truth
How could this fucking happen to you?
The hardest part
Was making you understand how fucked up that you really are

The hardest truth
Our source of self-inflicted wounds
I hate this feeling
It's all I ever knew
Changing faces, melting into the crowd
Bound and bonded by pain, I've got to get out

You keep control
I'll take the pain

The hardest truth
How could this fucking happen to you?
The hardest part
Was making you understand how fucked up that you really are

I cannot live, I will not die
The hardest truth was everything I sacrificed
No more, no more compromise

Send them back to where they belong
They come crawling back
But I'm not the fucking one
