

Opposites Attract

Terrorvision

I like what I like
You like what you like
Neither one of us
Likes anything the other does

Just like King Kong and Fay Wray
Or Superman and Lois Lane
I like a lot things and you think I'm insane
I heard the sunshine even
Sometimes likes the rain

I like what I like
You like what you like
Neither one of us
Likes anything the other does

Just like the atheist won't pray
Or Captain Kirk who's lost in space
There are a million things
That makes us both this way
And future dreams are nothing without today

I like what I like
You like what you like
Neither one of us
Likes anything the other does

Every single day as I watch you walk away
The blue skies fade to grey
And no one really knows the reason
Too little too late
Too hard to navigate
Let's turn to love not hate
Confusing like the changing seasons

I like what I like
You like what you like
Neither one of us
Likes anything the other does

I like what I like
You like what you like
Neither one of us
Likes anything the other does
