

Only You

Tesla Boy

In a world far from perfect
It's not always easy to connect
Where everything can be so complicated
I know that "simply, you're the best"

I don't want nobody else, I only want you Wanna keep you for myself, it's selfish, but true
I don't want anything, to ever come between us
'Cause I don't want nobody else

In a world far from perfect...still One never knows what to expect, so tell me what will I do?
So hard to think of you as "dearly departed"
If only desperation could resurrect

'Cause I don't want nobody else, I only want you Not some picture on a shelf, no...'cause that won't carry me through How does debilitated, find the strength to make it through

'Cause I don't want nobody else, only you Now I don't want nobody else, I only want you
And not some picture on a shelf, on no...
'Cause that won't carry me through How does asphyxiated, ever find the breath to make it through

'Cause I don't want nobody else,
I don't want nobody else,
only you, only you...
