

The Gate

Tesla

You don't even know, where I've been or where I'm coming from,
at all
Who was the one who said nothing's impossible, who was wrong
Who was the one to even say at all, anything is possible

You ask me where I'm going, I don't even know myself
I couldn't say 'cos it's undecided on which way I should go
I don't know!

I've been invited but I just can't make it
Got too excited and I just can't take it
My fuel ignited, got too excited
I've been invited but I just can't take it no more

How am I to show, what I'm feeling deep down in my heart, in my soul
No other way but by a miracle - anything's not possible

I don't know where I'm goin', you don't even know yourself
You couldn't say 'cos it's undecided on which way you should go
Do you know?

I've been invited but I just can't make it
Got too excited and I just can't take it
My fuel ignited, got too excited, I took the message celebrating again

I guess it must have been at least an hour or more
I must've had myself some powerful thoughts

I've been invited but I just can't make it
Got too excited and I just can't take anymore

I've been invited but I just can't make it
Got too excited and I just can't take it
My fuel ignited, got too excited
I've been invited but I just can't make it - at all