

Everything Reminds Me Of You

Tessanne Chin

Every little thing
Every little thing
Every little thing,
Every little thing
Every little thing
Every little thing
Everything reminds me of you

I hate coming home because I know your not upstairs, in our bed
Yeah,
And breakfast in the morning makes me think of when I used to make you eggs
Oh no,
I can't watch TV on Sunday nights especially not HBO
Yeah,
Cause I don't wanna make the dumb mistake by turning to what used to be our show
Oh, oh, ohh

Everything reminds me of you
Everything reminds me of you
Every picture, every place,
Every moment, every face
Everything reminds me of you
My eyes keep burning everyday cause I don't ever seem to get no sleep
To be honest at night I'm afraid, that I'll see you in my dreams
I don't talk to your mother, your father, your sister
Your brother, 'cause every last one of you look the same to me
And you need to know it's all your fault
So don't you ever try blaming it on me, blaming it on me

Hey,
Everything reminds me of you
Everything reminds me of you
Every picture, every place
Every moment, every face
Everything reminds me of you

Don't even like when the stars are shining
'Cause it reminds me of the both of us
And all the dreams that we left behind
I watch them turn to dust
Watch them fade away

Oh, Everything reminds me of you
Oh, Trying hard and I can't escape you

Everything reminds me of you
Everything reminds me of you
Everything reminds me of you
Oh no,
Every move, that I see
Every song, that I sing
Everything reminds me of you
Oh baby
Everything reminds me of you
I can't sleep at night
Everything reminds me of you

Every picture, every place
Every moment, every face
Baby everything reminds me of you
