

Meant to Be

Testament

Please tell me why
There's something wrong today
Cold and alone
Why do I feel this way
How can this be
There's nothing left for me?
Damage becomes
Destined for tragedy

Our time has gone
We thought it just begun
The air we breathe
Is choking you and me
And now that hope is lost
Our love begins to rust
There's nothing left to say
A toxic fantasy

What went wrong, who's to say?
We drift so far away
I know our love is lost, and still, we carry on
You took the best of me
You're just a memory
We tried at every cost, and still, we carry on
Our time has come
Was it fate?
We were always meant to be

Open your eyes
When will you realize
Our future is malformed
We fight to carry on
Tell me what we must do
Let me show you the truth
Have you heard a word I've said?
Everything is dead

Our time has come
Was it fate?
We were always meant to be

What went wrong, who's to say?
We drift so far away
I know our love is lost, and still, we carry on
You took the best of me
You're just a memory
We tried at every cost, and still, we carry on
Our time has come
Was it fate?
We were always meant to be

There's no more sorrow now
Love is all we need
We made it work somehow
We were always meant to be
