

Room 177

Testament

Surrounded by insanity, screams, they go unheard
There's no humanity, thoughts of life seem so absurd
You're praying for a painless death, the madness does not cease
Medication majesty to bring me some relief

Machines help you breathe, you're trapped inside a dream
You will never leave room 117

Traumatized by memories, where am I today?
Eyes alight, I never sleep, just keep on twisting in this grave
Searching for the sanctity, my dignity's destroyed
There's no easing of the pain when you're entering the void

You will never leave room 117
You don't wanna be in room 117

I'm feeling lonely, I'm feeling helpless
I see my world now wither away
I hear a voice call, hallucinations
Through the darkness reveals the light
I'm feeling anxious, I'm feeling helpless
I see my world now wither away
I hear a voice call, hallucinations
I found comfort in his embrace

And now, I'm free from this world
I am free

Spirits roam the corridors, sedated walking dead
There is no comfort to be found in isolation beds
When you hear the sirens ring, the angels sing, the end is near
When you see a blinding light shining down the hall

You will never leave room 117
Stay away from room 117
