

Shadow People

Testament

Black Mass, it haunts and follows
Demonized, realize what's holding on
Hides inside the shadows
Terrorized by sleep paralysis

Outstretched inside the darkness
Holds me down tight inside my bed
Scream shattering the silence
Can't shake escape the entity

Humanoid supernatural forces
Pray to God to save you now

Terrified don't look into their eyes
Obsessed they haunt forever
Trapped inside they're coming
Traumatized apparitions above your bed

It thrives inside your conscience
Cry out in fear yet no one comes
Stay awake try to escape
Or you'll wake up dead

Humanoid supernatural forces
Pray to God to save you now

Darkness has a memory and does not forget
Enveloping shadows in a world of regret
Unstoppable energy is bursting through
The hand of doom has an evil grip on you

They have no faces
Hallucinations
These apparitions
Will take your soul away

There's no God to save you now

Within this dream world
Where the shadows dwell
The smell of burning flesh
A never-ending hell

Scream, like it's your final breath
Sleep, you close your eyes, but you'll never rest
Stay away
Stay away from the shadow people
Saying prayers won't save you now
