

Take A Look Inside

Tetrarch

You're begging for me to be your savior
To pull you out from the hole that you are digging in (You are digging in)
You must like living in desperation
Every time I pick you up you slip back down again
Everything is crashing down on you

You're screaming at me
But you never tried
To help yourself this time
I'd hoped you'd leave it all behind
Now take a look inside
So full of excuses please stop with the lies
I'm tired of this fight
I pray you change
Now look at your own life

You can tell me that things are different
You prove it time and time that there's no saving you
Always looking for vindication
Then you're falling right back in the ways that bury you
They bury you

You're screaming at me
But you never tried
To help yourself this time
I'd hoped you'd leave it all behind
Now take a look inside
So full of excuses
Please stop with the lies
I'm tired of this fight
I pray you change
Now look at your own life

You did this to yourself even after
You promised that it would stop
Crawl back to the filth that you deserve
Cause your words don't mean a thing
Get fucked
Get fucked
