

Our Freedom

Texas in July

Stand up for what you believe, this is the future,
stand up for what you believe,
this is the future, in your hands.

This is our anthem,
we step this trek alone,
in search of who we are,
can we find ourselves here right now,
and let liberty light the way.

Never let your head hang low It's time to stand taller than you've ever felt, you had the chances,
to accept some change,
so chase it,
and put what's holding you, back in its grave.

Deep down beneath,
my empathy,
I come face to face with reality,
my future,
my freedom,
this is my way of life and there is no stopping me.

This is our anthem,
we step this trek alone,
in search of who we are,
can we find ourselves here right now,
and let liberty light the way.

Feel the power it's in our nature to make use, of what constructs the time to come.
