

Caverns

Thank You Scientist

Don't keep on wandering
From all those memories
You should forget
If only for one day
(If only for one day)

The long road
Has been unkind
And these nights are filled with pain
You wish it all away at the end

So tell me
Would he be just like me?
Just a part of your suffering
Just another disease
Like his father
Born to die slow
Just a no one

I feel like I lack the the words to say
No, what you need me to say now
So I should cool it down
Just to be straight
This is more than I can take

Anything but
What's growing inside your womb

Choices we make cut so deep
Between to kill
And to keep
I kinda like the way
You try to question conscience
I said there's no other way
You're gonna break him out

So tell me
Would he be just like me?
Just a part of your suffering
Just another disease
Like his father (don't want to keep you boy) (?)
Born to die slow (born to die slow)
I said he's born to die alone

I feel like I lack the the words to say
No, what you need me to say now
So I should cool it down
Just to be straight

Anything but
What's growing inside your womb

I said who
I know just what you'll find
All I know can tear me open wide
So take everything, Oh why

Can't I
Take everything
Take everything, I earned it

It's been a long December
And there's a beast within my bones
It's too late to sell much of anything but the pouring rain
Like hell you burn

So don't try to remember
Cause there's a beast within my bones
It's too late to sell us much anything

It's been a long December
And there's a burning within my bones
Been a long December

I feel like I lack the words to say
No, what you need me to say now
So I should cool it down
Just to be straight

Anything but
