

Dancing in my head
Awake at 2 AM
Singing off-key to the rhythm of every song
I can feel it still
And sure as time goes by
You waltzed into mine
A little light in the corner of my world

And there's a beauty in the things I can't control
And I can feel where your touch turned me to gold

Remember the magic in the stories we told?
When we were young and thought we'd never grow old?
We can always find a way back

I'd go back to Christmas morning
Take a walk around the past
Share one more little phone call, have one more little laugh
And I've been here before, a conversation like a chorus
When we sang hallelujah louder than anyone's ever sang anything before

Remember the magic in the stories we told?
When we were young and thought we'd never grow old?

Everybody wants a little magic in their life
And I'm thankful, that for me, you've been that light

Remember the magic in the stories we told?
When we were young and thought we'd never grow old?
Show me a game and I can win you the gold
