

The Bridge

The Absence

I found the will to live
Leaving you behind
Against judgments
Severing these strings of time
From the affection, the rapture within
If this is truly the end, then so be it
This nauseous plague
Rains down from above
The better of my ambitions
Have crippled by poor decisions
Shattered or strong all foes will be faced
Each and every single one laid to waste

Choices lead to consequence

Choose your steel
Be the hero or play the fool
Face me on this burning bridge
Show me which side you...
Choose your steel
Be the hero or die the fool
Just face me on this burning bridge
And show me which side you choose

All of these wounds will be met
Skinned flesh to salt
The tragic unending of epics untold
Desperate answers we seek
Finalized by the damaging bleak
Skin scarred so black (black)
Cauterized by a life half lived
We are all misled, undecided, unsaid
Destined to mourn in regret

Choices led to consequence

Choose your steel
Be the hero or play the fool
Face me on this burning bridge
Show me which side you...
Choose your steel
Be the hero or die the fool
Just face me on this burning bridge
And show me which side you choose

Choose your steel
Be the hero or play the fool
Face me on this burning bridge
Show me which side you...
Choose your steel
Be the hero or die the fool
Just face me on this burning bridge
And show me which side you choose
