

You are not alone
I'll collapse, the sensation is real
In the end I don't need to feel
I'll collapse, do you see me coming to the earth?
I'm telling you, it is the falling worth
I'll collapse, reality is closing in
I'm tasting the cold steel of regret
Induced by the stream to leap with faith
I'll collapse, this sensation is real

Now I swear to you that you are not alone
But if you lean on me you know you'll surely fall right down
So take a breath and close your eyes, let the tide take hold

Head to head
I walk the line
My shadow grasping tightly at the pain that won't heal
Blood like and ocean, a fortune
Clearing, digging, the skeleton inside of me
I'm staring down at my body again from the ceiling
My mind has slipped again

Now I swear to you that you are not alone
But if you lean on me you know you'll surely fall right down
It takes a second break to and lifetime to build up
I know you're running on empty, I'm not your reason to stay
So take a breath and close your eyes
Let the tide take hold

Please don't look at me with those eyes
Cause I don't see the light, anymore
All I see are lies and what you're holding in
If I could take away your pain, I would I'd inject it in

Now I swear to you that you are not alone
But if you lean of me you know you'll surely fall right down
It takes a second break and a lifetime to build up
I know you're running on empty, I'm not your reason to stay
So take a breath and close your eyes
Let the tide take hold

You are not alone
