

Eyes of a Believer

The Afters

Wide awake, every minute feeling like a day,
And you wonder if you're gonna have the strength it takes
Can you bend and never break
If you're afraid and your fear is standing in the way
And all you wanna do is turn and run away
But don't forget that you are brave

So put your gloves on and pull out the fighter
Never let anyone put out your fire
Cause anything's possible

With God by your side
You're standing strong though it all
As mountains crumble and fall
(In the eyes) In the eyes of a believer
Whatever battle may come
You know He's already won
(In the eyes) In the eyes of a believer

Holding on, to faith inside you, growing strong
Knowing it's the only way you'll make it through Everything you got in front of you

So put your gloves on and pull out the fighter
Never let anyone put out your fire
Cause anything's possible

With God by your side
You're standing strong though it all
As mountains crumble and fall
(In the eyes) In the eyes of a believer
Whatever battle may come
You know He's already won
(In the eyes) In the eyes of a believer

Anything is possible
(In the eyes) In the eyes of a believer
Anything is possible
(In the eyes) In the eyes of a believer

So put your gloves on and pull out the fighter
Never let anyone put out your fire
Never let anyone put out your fire
So put your gloves on and pull out the fighter
Never let anyone put out your fire
You're the one, you're the one
With the eyes of a believer

You're standing strong though it all
As mountains crumble and fall
(In the eyes) In the eyes of a believer
Whatever battle may come
You know He's already won
(In the eyes) In the eyes of a believer

The one who made the stars
Is standing where you are

Never let anyone put out your fire
The one who made you strong
Has overcome it all
In the eyes of a believer

Anything is possible
In the eyes of a believer
