

Legends

The Afters

I hear the roar of resistance
It's vibrating through my bones
I'm breathing in my existence
It's waking up my soul

Don't run for cover
When the sky above is torn
Is there any wonder
What we fight these battles for?

That's where legends are born
Legends are born, legends are born
Caught in the cross fire
Stand up to empires, waging a war
That's where legends are born (legends, legends)
Legends are born (legends, legends)

Kingdoms hang in the balance
As walls break down into stones
And heroes rise from the shadows
Even if they fight alone

That's where legends are born
Legends are born, legends are born

Caught in the cross fire
Stand up to empires, waging a war
That's where legends are born (legends, legends)
Legends are born (legends, legends)

When it's on the line, that's when we come alive (legends, legends, legends)
When it's on the line, that's when we come alive (legends, legends, legends)

That's where legends are born
Legends are born, legends are born
Caught in the cross fire
Stand up to empires, waging a war
That's where legends are born

When it's on the line, that's when we come alive (legends, legends)
Legends are born
When it's on the line, that's when we come alive (legends, legends)
