

There's A Light

The Amazons

I want you
I want you like the morning
Waiting for the same old sun to rise
Always catch the light at different times

If I see you
It's only 'cause I'm dreaming
I ain't gonna take a trick of the light
I ain't gonna reason with the night

All ends in sight
All in my mind

Wait
Hold on baby
I believe there's a light at the end of the dark
I believe there's a light in spite of it all

I need you
I need you more than ever
I can't let this feeling go to waste
Telling little lies to keep the faith

All ends in sight
All in my mind

Wait
Hold on baby
I believe there's a light at the end of the dark
I believe there's a light in spite of it all
For
For worse or better
I believe there's a light at the end of the dark
I believe there's a light in spite of it all

I can't let this feeling go to waste
Telling little lies to keep the faith
I can't let this feeling go to waste
I can't let this feeling go

Wait
Hold on baby
I believe there's a light at the end of the dark
I believe there's a light in spite of it all
For
For worse or better
I believe there's a light at the end of the dark
I believe there's a light in spite of it all
