

Below

The Anix

Who's your messenger?
Misguided innocence
Who cares what's below
When fragments rise above?

All the way back down
Stop descending
Watch the undertow
Pulls you down below - who cares what's below?

If you stay away before
I show you what's in store
You could watch the world explode
And who cares what's below?
Who cares what's below?

I escaped your massacre
Motionless again
Pulled your rusty nails
And pushed them further in

All the way back down
Stop descending
Watch the undertow
Pulls you down below - who cares what's below?

If you stay away before
I show you what's in store
You could watch the world explode
And who cares what's below?
If you stay away before
I show you what's in store

You could watch the world explode
And who cares what's below?

You can't come back alone
There's nothing left
You fell into unknown
Unknown
(If you stay away before)
(I show you what's in store)
(You could watch the world explode)
(And who cares what's below?)
If you stay away before
I show you what's in store
You could watch the world explode
And who cares what's below?

If you stay away before
I show you what's in store
You could watch the world explode
And who cares what's below?
If you stay away before
I show you what's in store
You could watch the world explode
And who cares what's below?

Who cares what's below?
You could watch the world explode
Who cares what's below?
