Defender

The Anix

It’s too hard to think about this life
Soon we’ll see enough to hide our spite
Complicated things aren’t black and white
You come to life in lights at night

I won’t forget you
I’m too far gone to bring me back to life
A ghost beside you
A defender to hold you up at night
I’ll go without you
A destroyer, I see the end in sight
A ghost beside you
I’m too far gone to bring me back to life

Do you ever dream to disappear?
Drift away into the atmosphere
Complicated things aren’t wrong or right
You keep running past the speed of light

I won’t forget you
I’m too far gone to bring me back to life
A ghost beside you
A defender to hold you up at night
I’ll go without you
A destroyer, I see the end in sight
A ghost beside you
I’m too far gone to bring me back to life

Army of one, constantly cross the line
Keep holding back, defend yourself this time
Army of one, constantly cross the line (A ghost beside you)
Keep holding back, defend yourself this time
