

Glass

The Anix

Sunrays have left me out to burn I feel the poison sink in Obsessed I throw my youth away I'm powerless against you

You're so far away It's hard to see you Through this looking glass I'll run to you I know it's true that you Wont ever let me down, again

Ten years with nothing worth to show Still I refuse to leave you Slowly I start to shut down You suck the air within me

You're so far away It's hard to see you Through this looking glass I'll run to you I know it's true that you Wont ever let me down, again

And you burn And you burn And you burn

You're so far away It's hard to see you Through this looking glass I'll run to you I know it's true that you Wont ever let me down, again
