

It's All Over, You Know

The Apers

It's all over you know
It's all over you know
I saw you do it. I saw you walk right over
I saw it happen, when I looked over my shoulder

And then it hit me, so it happens, there's no turning back
Did it really take this little to get off the track?

It's all over you know
It's all over you know
It's all over you know
It's all over you know

I saw you do it. I saw you taking the last train.
I saw it happens and realised it was too late

Too late for everything concerning you and me, that's right
No longer do I have to worry where you are at night

It's all over you know
It's all over you know
It's all over you know
It's all over you know

And then it hit me, so it happens, there's no turning back
Did it really take this little to get off the track?

It's all over you know
It's all over you know
It's all over you know
It's all over you know...
