

Running in Circles

The Apples In Stereo

Hey now, I've been running in circles
Doing handstands and cartwheels
To try to catch your eye
For days, now
And from every direction
Can't get your attention
No matter how I try
What can I do to shake or soothe this ache I've found?
Can you believe the way she's running me around?
I know it's a sad situation
And a mad occupation
That's wearing my shoes thin
Fueled, oh, by a churning emotion
And a burning devotion
To something I can't win
What can I do to shake or soothe this ache I've found?
Can you believe the way she's running me around?
Sorry if I tried to pursue...
