

Corner

The Arcadian Wild

From day one you pushed me forward
Never once stopped to take a breath
When I look for you
You're standin' in my corner

I woke up to the wind
You came runnin'
You whispered through the noise
"It's looking like the storm is worse than we thought
It's time to go"
But what about everything?
You said, "I'm already holdin' you"

From day one you pushed me forward
Never once stopped to take a breath
When I look for you
You're standin' in my corner
Holdin' up the world

Maybe somehow I'll return the favor
I'll never come close

I woke up from a dream
The world was ending
The house was on fire
And so were you
But you were only throwing water on me

I watched our home burn down
And take you with it
When the smoke cleared
The castle came up from the rubble beautiful
The superhero, mighty and immovable
You were still standin'

From day one you pushed me forward
Never once stopped to take a breath
When I look for you
You're standin' in my corner
(Holdin' up the world)

Maybe somehow I'll return the favor
I'll never come close
