

Fall: War

The Arcadian Wild

I heard a second voice
It hissed another choice and woke my lust

The first step of my descent
I lost my innocence, misplaced my trust

We were deceived
We sank our teeth into a lie

How could we count the cost?
We sold ourselves and what we bought wasn't worth the price

You gave me all your love
I thought there was more
Chaos, she politely knocked
So I opened the door

I saw my naked form
In a moment shame was born; I hid my face

You came back down to earth
And find I had cursed the world you made

You gave me all your love, but I love makin' war
Chaos, she politely knocked
So I opened the door
I looked from left to right for somebody to blame
I believed a viper and grew a pair of fangs

You gave me all your love, but I love makin' war
Chaos, she politely knocked
So I opened the door
I believed a viper and grew a pair of fangs
