

Lara, don't you let 'em get your head down
They don't know a thing about the rain clouds
They don't even know which way the wind's bound
So how could they know your name?

Lara, don't you let 'em get your head down
You're carrying the fire, don't forget now
You're living in a land that's all but run down
So how could they know your name?

Oh, Lara, dear
No matter what they say, may you hear
The daybreak's near

Lara, keep an eye on the horizon
Don't worry 'bout the rain, the sun is risin'
Blessed be the blazing sky, burn 'till we believe
Oh, what a lovely name

Lara, never mind it if they get your head down
In the mornin' they will join in with their heads bowed
If they don't, the very stones will cry out
Oh, what a lovely name

Lara, wear it on your sleeve
Lara, where we all can see
Who we oughta be

Lara, don't you let 'em get your head down
They don't know a thing about the rain clouds
They don't even know which way the wind's bound
So how could they know your name?

Lara, don't you let 'em get your head down
You're carrying the fire, don't forget now
You're living in a land that's all but run down
So how could they know?

They don't know your name
