

Liar

The Armed

Tell me a lie

All the promise

The contradiction

An endless conflict for a consolation prize

Treading water while the world around you keeps on falling apart

Traitor

Lie to me

Again

Conversations

And correspondence

Just interactions that they only thought were real

Self-important

Self-entitled

Just endless distracted, only wishing to believe in yourself

Traitor

Lie to me

Again

Up in your head all day

Nothing you've done is real

Only accomplished in your own mind

You've heard the name

Liar

All the times they looked you in the eyes

They told you all those lies

You let them get away with it

Nothing

Without belief

No truth

When everything

Stops
