

Another Time, Another Place

The Association

Another time, another place
I will see your smiling evening face
Another thought, another way, another day

And the reflection in your eyes
Will be of me and all you'll see
Will be the love I have for you
The love I have for you

And maybe I will see
And maybe it will be
The kind of thing I've always waited for
It's in store

There's magic in the air
And it lights the golden stair
That you and I will climb
If it's our time

But, baby, can't you see
That it's not the time for you and me to be
Not you and me

I never wanted it to be that way
But there's stones to toss, games to play
Bridges to cross, bills to pay
Along our way

Another time, another place
I will see your smiling evening face
Another thought, another way, another day

And the reflection in your eyes
Will be of me and all you'll see
Will be the love I have for you
The love I have for you
Another time!