

The Nest

The Association

Without love, mother's overweight
Father can't appreciate you, neither
Without love, mother sleeps alone
While father dreams of clothes that never fit her

Without love, brother's sent away
And sister's left to play with no one
Without love, home's an empty house
And you might be the one who's left within it

Oh, let it rain on the nest
When it rains, you've been blessed
So keep on trying
When it rains, you've been blessed
To see the rainbow in the nest
You've been denying

Hear the sound of our love, everyone's coming home
Everyone's coming home after being alone
Today we're flying

The nest is calling, the nest is calling...