

The Traveller

The Astronauts

People say that you're gonna go far
But they look at your face and wonder who the hell you are
Hope you don't see yourself as a star
Well you may have the money but you ain't got the car
Some times you look up in the sky
See a bus to Somewhere floating by
And you've missed it and you know
That sometimes you wonder why wonder why

Now I'm looking back at all the friends I've had Well some are now big shots and the rest have gone mad
Helping to run the social decay
Well just close your eyes 'cause it won't go away
And sometimes you feel so far away
Waiting for the dawning of your day
Nothing very much to say except this

And sometimes I feel I really don't care
Then I'm just a dreamer just pretends to be aware
Say you've got a lot of problems to share
Well there's apathy behind my sympathetic stare
But baby we'll all be in the know
One single direction we can show
The traveller has nowhere to go.
