What Gets You Through The Night

The Audition

Tried to find both my life and my love Took the time to write down all my thoughts Found that I need to let go of these (Let go oh let go) All of my worthless insecurities

'Cause I've got the tendency Of dancing away at anything alarming And so...

Can you, will you At least attempt to stay now Just turn around I'll make you break through Never betray you And now I know that I Can't go back on all those promises I shredded but Can you, will you At least attempt to stay now

Wonder why, why it's taking so long To step back and admit all my wrongs Always gave everything you had to me (Everything to me) Tell me why I continue abusing

My insecurities have taken away What I consider charming And so...

Can you, will you At least attempt to stay now Just turn around I'll make you break through Never betray you And now I know that I Can't go back on all those promises I shredded but Can you, will you At least attempt to stay now

Whoa, I'll never tell you why I do those things I do Whoa, Oh please just show me some understanding, baby Whoa, Just trust my soul that I, I'm trying, God I'm trying Oh, To let you know that I, I've tried to tell you that...

My insecurities have taken away What I consider charming And so...

Can you, will you At least attempt to stay now Just turn around I'll make you break through Never betray you And now I know that I Can't go back on all those promises I shredded but Can you, will you At least attempt to stay now Tištěno z pisnicky-akordy.cz Sponzor: www.
