

Who Do You Think You Are

The Audition

Who do you think you are

I sold a soul to the devil below
You took the shame, baby just to curse my name
You took your shot with a twist on the rocks
I took your blow like a fist to the nose

You don't know what it feels like
To be somebody, somebody here in my dreams yeah

I can't believe in what you're thinking know
Who do you think you are
So deceiving riding your mouth around town
Who do you think you are
I can't believe it, it's so deceiving
It's no secret we've got the mess that I'm leaving now
Who do you think you are
Who do you think you are

You fucked me up and left me for dead
And I can't believe all the bullshit that you've said
No use for sorry no excuse or goodbye
I'm coming back so you better put your pride to the side

You don't know what it feels like
To be somebody, somebody here in my dreams yeah

I can't believe in what you're thinking know
Who do you think you are
So deceiving riding your mouth around town
Who do you think you are
I can't believe it, it's so deceiving
It's no secret we've got the mess that I'm leaving now
Who do you think you are
Who do you think you are

I can't feel anything I want to feel
Don't you know that God I tried
'cause inside you won't die
You just won't die
I can't feel anything I want to feel
But God I tried
'cause inside you won't die
You just won't die

I can't believe in what you're thinking know
Who do you think you are
So deceiving riding your mouth around town
Who do you think you are
I can't believe it, it's so deceiving
It's no secret we've got the mess that I'm leaving now
Who do you think you are
Who do you think you are
Who do you think you are
Who do you think you are
