

I Go To My Heart

The Avett Brothers

What do I get when I find out I am nothing?
Who am I without my name?
How do I stop this emptiness from growing?
The dumb instructions coming from my brain

I go to my heart on my knees
Begging "take me darling please"
I will follow you I promise I have changed
I've been gone for years I know
But I am back for good to show
That I will never stray from you like that again

What do I do when my body lets me down?
Who am I without dark hair and a pair of working hands?
How do I stop this outro that I'm heading for?
Where do I turn when I can't take it anymore?

I go to my heart on my knees
Begging "take me darling please"
I will follow you I promise I have changed
I've been gone for years I know
But I am back for good to show
That I will never stray from you like that again
No, I will never stray from you like that again
