

Snowbank Blues

The Backseat Lovers

Been working for the man
Every goddamn day
I've been smoking with my friends
To wash the nights away
Catching up on sleep's harder when I'm waking up next to me

There's a girl from down the road
Sending looks my way
Frankly dear I'm not quite sure
What I'm supposed to say
How can I say "No"
When you're a thousand miles away?

Wish I could roll the windows down
But the snow has swallowed up our little town

Well there's coffee in my cup
And cameras in my face
Well I think I've had enough
Of all these people in in this place
Tomorrow I'll be gone
Could be a thousand miles away

And there's something on my chest
It's really messin' with my health
Just because I'm smiling,
Doesn't mean that I am smiling for myself
Take the stage and put the mask back on the shelf

Wish I could roll the windows down
But the snow has swallowed up our little town

I know you had to leave
But you didn't have the right
To take the sun
You stole it in my sleep
