

Everything Is Boring

The Beaches

I just zoned
You were telling me about your dreams
No one cares about your dreams
It's one of those days
I can't even watch TV
I'm trying to fill a void in me
The silence kills me
It's like nothing thrills me
Doctor, please, just pill me
So I can feel something

Everything is boring
Wake up and I'm snoring
I think I could die right here, right now
Everything is boring
That or just annoying
I swear I'm just watching life go down

It's raining, it's pouring
Everything is boring
It's raining, it's pouring
Everything is boring

I just zoned out
I was thinking about girls supporting other girls
Then I woke up in a meeting with a bunch of random dudes
Telling me what I should do
The notion kills me
It's like nothing thrills me
Doctor, please, just pill me
So I can feel something

Everything is boring
Wake up and I'm snoring
I think I could die right here, right now
Everything is boring
That or just annoying
I swear I'm watching life go down

Sinking deeper and deeper and deeper into the couch
I think I found some coins down here
I'm rich, maybe I should go out
Sinking deeper and deeper and deeper into the ground
I think I just found my heart down here
From when you last stomped it out

Everything is boring
Wake up and I'm snoring
Everything is boring
That or just annoying
Everything is boring
Wake up and I'm snoring
Everything is boring
That or just annoying

I swear I'm just watching life go down

It's raining, it's pouring
Everything is boring
It's raining, it's pouring
Everything is boring
It's raining, it's pouring
Everything is boring
Everything is boring
