

The Separation

The Beautiful Mistake

It's said that time would heal our every wound
But the healing comes from knowing
Knowing you're at peace
It's not from the hands on a clock on a wall
That move a little slower since you left us on that

Time stands so still
In the wake of your passing
Soon I'll see you
With a choice of what

Life has moved along and know that you're at peace
But the thoughts of you remain
And I know that you are happy
It's not from the weeks or the years that go by
We miss you and we hope our lives and loss have made you

Time stands so still
in the wake of your passing
Soon I'll see you
With a choice of what

Time stands so still
In the wake of your passing
Soon I'll see you
With a choice of what

Time
Time
Time
Time

Time stands so still
In the wake of your passing
Soon I'll see you
With a choice of what

Time
Time
