

I Really Need Love

The Bees

You know that you love me
When every step's a yes
You know that you love me
When you can't feel the time of day

Don't you just love it
When you open your window in spring?
And you know you know you just love it
When you let the sunshine fall in

I'm held in your arms
I'm singing
To light up the skies for you
I'm held in your arms
I'm singing
To light up the skies for you

I don't wanna fool no more
On the goodness that there is
And I ain't fooling anyone
On the chances that there are to risk
And I wish that love will come
For each and every one
And I know I'm gonna get me some
In the shadow of the sun

Don't wanna put my feelings
Into another song for you
No I don't want to put my feelings
Into another song all because of you

Well I really need love now
Really need love now
Really need love now
Really need love now
Really need love
Really need love
Really need love
Really need love now
Really need love now
Really need love now
Really need love now
Really need love now
Really need love now
Really need love
Really need love
Really need love
Really need love now
Really need love now
Really need love now
Really need love now
Really need love now
Really need love
Really need love
Really need love
Really need love
Really need love
Really need love now
Really need love now
Really need love now

Really need love really need love really really
Really need love
Really need love
Really need love
Really need love really need love

You made me feel so fun
When I'm dancing on my way home
You made me feel so young
When the morning when the morning comes
I'm thinking of asking you
Where we have to be to turn the page
And I think I want to kiss you soon
'Cause this feeling I've had staged

I really need love now
Really need love now
Really need love now
