

This Far

The Belonging Co

The road may get harder
But You're always stronger
When the valley gets deeper
You're closer still
The storm may grow louder
But lightning and thunder
Won't change You or shake You
No, it never will

You didn't bring me this far
To leave me here
You didn't ransom my heart
To let it forget
Every wall You've torn down
Every chain on the ground
You didn't bring me this far
This far, to leave me here
You won't leave me here

When I was younger
Your love was so real
And as I've grown older
You still have my heart
And there have been moments
I thought it was over
But what I call an ending
You call the start

You didn't bring me this far
To leave me here
You didn't ransom my heart
To let it forget
Every wall You've torn down
Every chain on the ground
You didn't bring me this far, oh no
This far

You didn't bring me this far
To leave me here
You didn't ransom my heart
To let it forget
Every wall You've torn down
Every chain on the ground
You didn't bring me this far
This far, to leave me here

You never change
You never change
And I know You won't start now
You stay the same
You stay the same
Even if it all falls down

You never change
You never change
You stay the same

You stay the same
Even if it all falls down

You never change
You never change
You stay the same
You stay the same
Even if it all falls down

You never change
You never change
You stay the same
You stay the same
Even if it all falls down

You're faithful then and now
Even if it all falls down
You're faithful then and now

You didn't bring me this far
To leave me here
You didn't ransom my heart
To let it forget
Every wall You've torn down
Every chain on the ground
You didn't bring me this far
This far

You didn't bring me this far
To leave me here
You didn't ransom my heart
To let it forget
Every wall You've torn down
Every chain on the ground
You didn't bring me this far
This far, to leave me here

Oh no, oh no
Oh no, oh no
You didn't leave me lonely
You didn't leave me empty, hey
You didn't leave me lonely
When I was in the valley
You didn't leave me empty
'Cause You never leave the righteous forsaken
You never leave the righteous forsaken
You didn't leave me, hey
You didn't forsake me
Oh no, oh no
No, no
You won't bring me this far just to leave me now
You won't bring me this far just to leave me now
He didn't bring you this far just to leave you now
Oh you may be sick in your body
But He didn't bring you this far just to leave you now
Oh no, oh no
Oh He didn't bring you this far just to leave you now
'Cause You're faithful to the end
You're faithful to the end
You're faithful to the end

You never change
You never change
You stay the same
You stay the same
Even if it all falls down

You never change
You never change
You stay the same
You stay the same
Even if it all falls down

You never change
You never change
You stay the same
You stay the same
Even if it all falls down

You never change
You never change
You stay the same
You stay the same
Even if it all falls down

You never change
You never change
You stay the same
You stay the same
Even if it all falls down

You never change
You never change
You stay the same
You stay the same
Even if it all falls down

You're faithful then and now
Even if it all falls down
You're faithful then and now
Even if it all falls down

You're faithful then and now
Even if it all falls down

You didn't bring me this far
To leave me here
You didn't ransom my heart
To let it forget
Every wall You've torn down
You didn't bring me this far
