

Having Fun

The Beloved

Oh, but I'm happy now, oh, can't you see
That wherever I turn, oh, I turn towards me
But this morning, oh, I kissed the floor
And it tasted better than I'd have thought

Oh, who'd've thought?

She wants water, I want wine, everything will turn out fine
I know, yes, I know, some people don't ever let go
She wants water, I want wine, everything will turn out fine
I know, yes, I know, some people, they never let go

But as luck would have it, and it surely would
That whatever I promised her was misunderstood
Oh, and then I found splinters inside my tongue
But at least I'm havin' fun

Oh, well, I'd call it fun
Perhaps, I'm the only one?

She wants water, I want wine, everything will turn out fine
I know, yes, I know, some people don't ever let go
She wants water, I want wine, everything will turn out fine
I know, oh yes, I know, some people never let go

She wants water, I want wine, everything will turn out fine
I know, yes, I know, some people don't ever let go
She wants water, I want wine, everything will turn out fine
I know, oh yes, I know that some people never let go

Oh yes, I know, some people don't ever let go
Oh yes, I know, some people don't ever let go
Oh yes, I know
