

Don't Think

The Big Moon

Some nights you just wait for the risin' of the sun
Avoiding all your shy mates
And trailing in the wake of the loud ones
Trying to shout above the drums
But you're wiser now than you were, your bark is like your bite
If you have a gut feeling, maybe you should go with it this time
It could be wrong, it could be right

Just don't think about it now
Just don't think about it now
Or your head will talk you out of it (Ooh-oooh-oooh)
Just don't think about a thing
Just don't think about a thing
And your heart will lead you into it

'Cause no one ever lets you do like that
Yeah, no one ever lets you do like that

A comic strip is written in the strobin' of the lights
Where hands are raised in worship
[?] you orbit like satellites
So you dance into somebody's type
And all your best intentions just puddle at your feet
There's nothing in the city, boy, if you've only got what you need
'Cause the rest, 'cause the rest is everything

Just don't think about it now
Just don't think about it now
Or your head will talk you out of it (Ooh-oooh-oooh)
Just don't think about a thing
Just don't think about a thing
And your heart will lead you into it

'Cause no one ever lets you do like that
Yeah, no one ever lets you do like that

So come and make your move
You gotta make your move
You gotta make your move
So make it, I dare you (make it, I dare you)

Just don't think about it now
Just don't think about it now
Or your head will talk you out of it
Just don't think about a thing
Just don't think about a thing
And your heart will lead you into it
Just don't think about it now
Just don't think about it now (No one ever lets you do like that)
Or your head will talk you out of it
Just don't think about a thing
Just don't think about a thing (No one ever lets you do like that)
And your heart will lead you into it
