

The End

The Big Moon

Boy I'm afraid I'm falling for you
Dig me a hole to crumble into
Why should this be happening now?
I wanted to be free
Just for a month or two

But now there's something in the air
I never even cared before

Boy I'm afraid this may be the end
My iron will has started to bend
Why should this be happening now?
The rug beneath my feet is pulling under me

Cos now there's something in the air
I never even cared

Before the days were so long
I know
But now those days are long gone
I know
And it freaks me out
I just don't know what to do

Boy I'm scrambled
My TV's a fuzz
Watershed thrills
My heart beats a buzz
Why should this be happening now?
Where I once used to bite
My fangs are falling out

Cos now there's something in the air
I never even cared

Before the days were so long
I know
And now those days are long gone
I know
And it freaks me out
I just don't know what to do

I'm melting
I'm melting
I'm melting
I'm melting
I'm melting
I'm melting
I'm melting
I'm melting over you
