

Unkind

The Birthday Massacre

You're never too far from my mind's eye
I search for the meaning between your words
A gentle poison to calm my soul
We dance in the halls of our twilight

The heart is a liar
When you run away
If you take me higher
There is no escape

Our love is pure for a little while
This life is unkind, and we laugh along
All alone

Another meaningless Valentine
I'm tired of reading the same old words
It's just too easy to change my mind
Whenever I want you to be mine

My heart is on fire
There's no other way
To save my desire
For another day

Our love is pure for a little while
This life is unkind, and we laugh along
All alone

Our love is pure for a little while
This life is unkind, and we laugh along
All alone