

The visions before me
Have not seen my own blood
All of these pictures lost in time
All of these memories entwined
Whisper stories to me

But I can't stay for too long

Whisper
Hold me here again
Tell me to let it go, I want to listen
Whisper
Help me to pretend
Everything that I love will last forever

The end is all I see
Ripping me apart, consuming me
Take your last breath so I can sleep
Tell me that you'll weep for me

We've all heard the stories
They're so cold and unkind
All of those nights I heard you pray
Hoping we could hide until that day
Whispers soft through the leaves

And I can't stay for too long

Whisper
Hold me here again
Tell me to let it go, I want to listen
Whisper
Help me to pretend
Everything that I love will last forever

The end is all I see
Ripping me apart, consuming me
Take your last breath so I can sleep
Tell me that you'll weep for me

Tell me that you'll weep for me
