

Fool Notion

The Black Sorrows

Must've been blind
Guess that's what you'll find
If fate taps on your door

Love rolled in
You shook my world around
Then watched me from the wings
I should have known
But my heart had flown
Now look what trouble brings

A train pulls out of a station
Then rattles on down the line
When I held you close
What I feared the most
Was some fool notion of mine

The sun has gone
This winter's much too long
It steals my breath away

Everythin' dies
Like the promise in your eyes
And waves breakin' on the bay

The moon staggers into the night sky
But it ain't up there to shine
When I held you close
What I feared the most
Was some fool notion of mine