

What's Taken Your Smile Away

The Black Sorrows

They've got a name for the kind of emotion
That turns a touch to caress
And there's a way to express your devotion
With undying tenderness
You can't deny it's a fatal attraction
We're like moths to the flame
And when it leads to a chain reaction
There's only science to blame

We're all part of a system
That needs love to operate
The first sign of resistance
The whole scheme could disintegrate
So let's slow down and start again
Refine the experiment
I'd do anything you say
So what's taken your smile away

You could get lost in the search for perfection
End up with nothing at all
But with some time and the right connection
You just might enjoy the fall

We're all part of a system
That needs love to operate
The first sign of resistance
The whole scheme could evaporate
So let's slow down and start again
Refine the experiment
I'll do anything you say
So what's taken your smile away

We're all part of a system
That needs love to operate
The first sign of resistance
The whole scheme could disintegrate

We're all part of a system
That needs love to operate
The first sign of resistance
The whole scheme could evaporate
So let's slow down and start again
Refine the experiment
I'll do anything you say
So what's taken your smile away
