

Chains

The Blackout

They break out their lines with lust in their eyes
And wait for the first one to fall
Throw it away, playing the game
Take to the grave, always to blame

Descend like the light to swallow your lives
And feed on their flesh and their bones
Going insane, oh what a shame
That was their aim, bring me the pain

All that they see is the price that they need
For selling your body and soul
Ignite the flame, won't be the same
Spite what they claim, tarnish the name

For something to change stop waiting for fate

Break the chains
Know that they'll always
Keep dragging you down 'til you feel the ground
Swallow and drown all that you wanted to save
And all that you wasted
You need to decide if you live or die
Before it's too late
So stand up and break from the chains

The ground underneath gets pulled from your feet
Breaking your faith in it all
Throw it away, playing the game
Take to the grave, always to blame

'Cause now that you see what's swept underneath
You question how you didn't know
Going insane, oh what a shame
That was their aim, bring me the pain

So open your eyes to see through the lies
Wake up and take back control
Ignite the flame, won't be the same
Spite what they claim, tarnish the name

For something to change stop waiting for fate

Break the chains
Know that they'll always
Keep dragging you down 'til you feel the ground
Swallow and drown all that you wanted to save
And all that you wasted
You need to decide if you live or die
Before it's too late
So stand up and break from the chains

When fortune fades
When fortune fades

Break the chains
Know that they'll always

Keep dragging you down 'til you feel the ground
Swallow and drown all that you wanted to save
And all that you wasted
You need to decide if you live or die
Before it's too late
So stand up and break from the chains

Break from the chains
Break from the chains
Break from the chains
Break from the chains
