

Hold On

The Blackout

This is a war, a call to arms
A time to fight for all that we have lost
So open up the door to all the wolves
We are not afraid to stand and fall
We will take it all

We're going nowhere 'cause there's nowhere to hide

Oh oh, if you feel like letting go
Just hold on, just hold on, just hold on
There's always something more
Oh oh, and if it feels like you're alone
Just hold on, just hold on, just hold on
There's always something more

So put them all against the wall
For every drop of blood that they have stole
For every fucking lie that we were sold
We're taking back control of what we own
We're taking back control

We're going nowhere 'cause there's nowhere to hide

Oh oh, if you feel like letting go
Just hold on, just hold on, just hold on
There's always something more
Oh oh, and if it feels like you're alone
Just hold on, just hold on, just hold on
There's always something more

We will never be the same
And I will never be afraid
We will never be the same
And I will never be afraid
Oh

I pray to a god that I know isn't there
Together we'll fall from the heavens
To save me from living this life of despair
I'm sorry that I didn't stop you now

Oh oh, if you feel like letting go
Just hold on, just hold on, just hold on
There's always something more
Oh oh, and if it feels like you're alone
Just hold on, just hold on, just hold on
There's always something more

Hold on, hold on (Just hold on, just hold on)
There's always something more
Hold on, hold on (Just hold on, just hold on)
There's always something more
