

Believe

The Bliss

I am awakened
By the sound of smoke and ash
Promises breaking
How could it come and go so fast?
I'm on a highwire, blinded
With the sun in my eyes
You're on a fast train
Fading to grey and I'm wondering why...

I'm falling out
I'm coming down

With my heart caught on my sleeve
No second chance
I can't turn around
You were everything to me
I need a savior
Somewhere to go
A light in the dark to lead me home
I'm near the end
I'm on my knees
I need a reason to believe
