

Please Stop Talking

The Bluetones

You come up to scratch in a beach towel
You come up to scratch in a bar
You look pretty good when you're smiling
You show all your gums when you laugh
There's so much to admire about you
I like you as a friend or a pet
But each time that you open your mouth
It spoils the whole effect

Please stop talking, you're scaring the people away, hey-hey-
hey
Please stop talking, you've nothing of interest to say, hey-hey-
hey

There's so much to admire about you
I like you as a friend or a pet
But each time that you open your mouth
It spoils the whole effect

Please stop talking, your jaw must be starting to ache, hey-hey-
hey
Please stop talking, you've shown yourself up as a fake, heyhey-hey
Please stop talking, you're peeling the paint off the walls, he y-hey-hey
Please stop talking, all that comes out is pure balls, hey-hey-
hey
Please stop talking, that nails-down-a-blackboard voice, hey-
hey-hey
Please stop talking, please, while you still have a choice

There's so much to admire about you
I like you as a friend or a pet
But each time that you open your mouth
It spoils the whole effect
