

String Along

The Bluetones

I can't fight, I forgo my pride
Eye's open wide, I've nothing to hide
Take me away, I'm ready to go
To where I can't say
And how I don't know

Falling through, right into you
Where can I go, what can I do
Take me away, I'm willing to see
And for the first time
It all makes sense to me

Appears to me, their to scared to say
That no one can seem to find their way
Don't mean we have to string along
You do just to find you've done it wrong

I can't fight, I forgo my pride
Eye's open wide, I've nothing to hide
Take me away, I'm able to say
Won't take forever
The best part of a day

Appears to me, their to scared to say
That no one can seem to find their way
Don't mean we have to string along
You do just to find you've done it wrong
